- Storage, Handling, and Specialty Product Categories: 2.9% Average

- Thermal Category (Heated Cabinets): 3.5% Average

IMPLEMENTATION TIMING & ORDER POLICY

- Orders with requested delivery dates after October 1st, 2026 will reflect new pricing

Over the past two years we have continued to absorb significant cost and operational increases in raw materials such as steel, stainless steel, aluminum and engineered polymers. Freight and logistics cost increases and general labor and supplies costs have also significantly impacted these actions.

We have delayed this action as long as possible and have offset a meaningful portion of these increases internally through our continuous improvement and operational improvement initiatives. We continue to invest in manufacturing automation, distribution, new product development, and supply chain resiliency to increasingly support your business.

We will continue to monitor cost trends and market conditions closely. Our goal remains to balance cost realities with our long-term commitment to providing the highest value solutions while ensuring we remain a reliable and competitive market leader.

We sincerely appreciate your continued trust in Metro and your partnership.

Respectfully,

Nancy Fera
